WHY BUY A HOME NOW?

A SHIFTING MARKET MAY PROVIDE MORE OPPORTUNITY

With the market shifting, home prices, in some areas, have seemed to reach a peak. Inventory is starting to grow giving buyers more opportunities. But act fast, the competition is still stiff for desirable properties.

MORTGAGE INTEREST RATES ARE EXPECTED TO INCREASE

Even a small increase in interest rates can put a dent in your buying power. Mortgage rates have increased over the past year and are expected to continue to rise.

BUY OR RENT, YOU ARE PAYING A MORTGAGE

Homeowners and renters both pay a mortgage payment each month, however the one renters pay isn't theirs. Buy a home to build your own wealth instead of your landlord's!

RENTS CONTINUE TO RISE ACROSS THE COUNTRY

Rents are accelerating at a more rapid pace than home prices making it more affordable to buy a home in more than three-quarters of the U.S. than it is to rent. ³

BUYING A HOME: A GOOD INVESTMENT

Think about how home values have increased over the past 30 years. The median price for a single-family home in the U.S. 30 years ago was $75,500. In 2019, it was $257,700. So after 30 years—the typical length of a mortgage loan—a person's wealth would include that $257,700, plus they are no longer facing a mortgage payment (or rent payment).

GREATER CINCINNATI'S RENT GROWTH CONTINUES TO RISE YEAR OVER YEAR

As of December 2019, average rent for a 2 bedroom apartment in Cincinnati, OH is $1,076 which is a 13.86% increase from last year when the average rent was $945, and an increase from last year when the average rent was $945.

43% have excessive housing burden due to high rent

About 43 percent of renters in Greater Cincinnati spend 30 percent or more of their monthly income on rent. In the city of Cincinnati, an estimated 48 percent of renters spend 30 percent or more of their monthly income. The 30 percent figure has traditionally been used as a threshold for determining whether a person has an excessive housing cost burden.

BENEFITS OF HOMEOWNERSHIP

Equity buildup (savings)

Tax incentives

Usually a good investment

More stable costs from year to year

Privacy

Pride in ownership

Strong community ties

TODAY'S BUYERS:

YOUNG

EDUCATED

DIVERSE

The largest share of home buyers continues to be the 25 to 34 age group, accounting for 25 percent of all buyers. The median household income for 2018 increased to $93,200, compared to $91,600 in last year's report. The share of married couples decreased to 61 percent this year, the share of single females stepped down slightly to 17 percent, and the share of single males held steady at nine percent. Thirty-five percent of all buyers had children under the age of 18 living at home.

33%
of buyers are first-time home buyers.

48%
of all buyers owned a home previously.

64%
of first-time buyers cite the desire to own a home of one's own as the reason for purchasing.

REAL ESTATE AGENTS ARE WORKING FOR YOU

YOU NEED AN EXPERT

A real estate transaction can be an incredibly complex journey loaded with unexpected bumps and turns. You need a true expert to guide you down the best path and through the dangerous pitfalls that may come up. A real estate professional knows the market and will work with you to understand your wants and needs and work in your best interest, saving you time, money, and definitely many, many headaches.

87%

of buyers would use and/or recommend their agent to others. Buyers have typically recommended their agent at least once since their purchase.

A SKILLED NEGOTIATOR

As a buyer in today's market, having a talented negotiator working for you could save you thousands, perhaps even tens of thousands of dollars. After you submit your initial offer there could possibly be multiple renegotiations after the home inspection or appraisal. You will want someone who can keep the deal together until it closes.

SOMEONE WORKING FOR YOU!

A buyer's agent works for the buyer, not the seller, and puts the buyer's interests ahead of anyone else's interests. A full-service real estate professional will spend time getting to know your wants and needs and providing property information, comparable sales analysis, and community and tax information. A buyer's agent can obtain a copy of a home's historical documents, schedule and attend home inspections for you, answer any of your questions or concerns about a report or contract, and more. The bottom line--a real estate professional can provide you with the knowledge and service you need to be confident and comfortable in your buying decisions.

COSTS YOU NOTHING

One of the biggest misconceptions home buyers have is that they will have to pay their agent's commission. In most cases, the seller has to pay the 3% commission to the agent for bringing them the buyer, as well as pay 3% commission to their own agent for listing and marketing the home.

So as a buyer, using a REALTOR® costs you little or nothing.*

*Select brokerages charge additional fees for services. HUFF Realty, a full service brokerage, charges buyers a $199 administration fee at closing.

GET FINANCING FIRST

Getting pre-approved for home financing early in the buying process is commonplace. Unlike pre-qualification, which is simply a quick estimate of your borrowing potential, pre-approval is a formal approval of a specific mortgage amount - typically the maximum you can borrow. And you'll receive a Good Faith Estimate of your closing expenses. By initiating the mortgage process early, you'll know exactly how much house you can afford, and you'll have an edge over other buyers in multiple-offer or negotiating situations.

86%

of buyers financed their home purchase.

89%

of buyers utilized a fixed rate mortgage.

SPEAK TO A REPUTABLE LENDER

There are many kinds of mortgages available with different rates and features. Meeting with a reputable loan officer will help you navigate through all the options.

"Your agent can help guide you through the financing process."

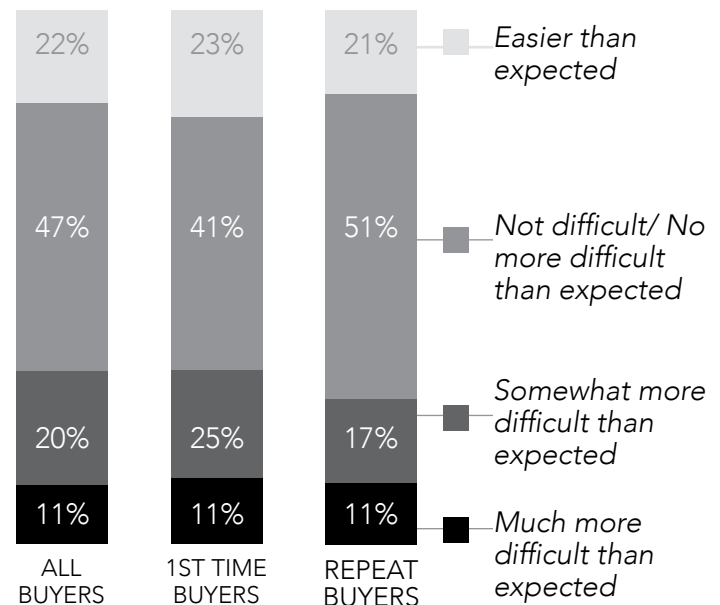

FULL SERVICE BROKERS

Some brokerages, like HUFF Realty, offer affiliated real estate services including mortgage. While this one-stop concept can streamline the buying process, there are frequently other settlement service providers available with similar services. You are free to shop around to determine that you are receiving the best services and the best rate for these services.

HOW BUYERS FELT ABOUT THE MORTGAGE APPLICATION & APPROVAL PROCESS¹

DETERMINING YOUR ELIGIBILITY

CREDIT SCORE

Your credit score is a major factor lenders use in determining your eligibility for a home loan. Maintaining a strong credit score will earn you the most favorable mortgage rates. If your credit score is not strong you can still get approved but might now qualify for today's lowest rates.

DEBT-TO-INCOME RATIO

Mortgage lenders require that your total monthly debt including car loans, credit card bills, and student loans be no more than 36 percent of your gross monthly income. This is your debt-to-income ratio. If your ratio is too high, consider paying down high interest credit cards to get below the required limits.

DOWN PAYMENT

It's a good idea to approach lenders with a down payment in hand. One of the mortgage requirements that determines your eligibility for mortgage loans is your loan-to-value ratio (LTV). The more favorable the ratio of how much the property is worth to the amount you're borrowing, the more qualified you become.

YOUR MONTHLY MORTGAGE PAYMENT

When you own a home, your fiscal responsibility goes deeper than just making monthly principal + interest payments to the bank. Real estate taxes and homeowners insurance are due, too.

Principal and interest payments are typically due monthly to your lender; real estate taxes are due to your local taxing authority; and homeowners insurance is due to your insurer.

MORTGAGE PAYMENT BREAKDOWN

Your total monthly housing is calculated as follows :

- Your monthly mortgage principal payment
- Your monthly mortgage interest payment
- Your annual real estate tax bill*
- Your annual homeowners insurance bill*

pro-rated monthly*

Collectively, these elements -- principal, interest, taxes, insurance - are known as PITI. (pronounced "pee-eye-tee-eye")

The elements that make up a mortgage payment vary from day-to-day, and from home-to-home. This is because mortgage rates change daily, which change a home's principal + interest payment, and because every home's tax bill and insurance bill are different.

A home in storm-heavy Miami, Florida, for example, will typically cost more to insure than a home in Cincinnati, Ohio. The same is true for a home in the San Francisco Bay Area which may be more susceptible to natural disaster than a home in Florence, Kentucky.

MORTGAGE ESCROW

Mortgage escrow is when a mortgaged homeowner sends 1/12 of its annual real estate tax bill and hazard insurance premium to its mortgage lender each month along with the regularly scheduled mortgage payment. The lender collects mortgage escrow payments monthly, then distributes them to the homeowner's county assessor and insurance company semi-annually, respectively, when the payments come due.

STILL A GOOD TIME TO BUY

BUY NOW OR WAIT?

Prices have been on the rise in most areas. Even a small price increase of five percent, coupled with an interest rate that is one eighth to one half percent higher than they are today, can cost a home buyer thousands of dollars.

Keep in mind that while mortgage rates are predicted to rise, even if you may have missed the lowest mortgage rates ever offered, you can still get a much better rate than 10, 20 and 30 years ago.

HOW MUCH CAN I AFFORD?

When buying a home, your lender will look at your income, assets, and down payment. They'll also want to know about your liabilities and other financial obligations. This includes things like credit card debt, auto loans, student loans, child support, taxes and insurance—all which impact the size of the loan you can afford. This is called your “debt-to-income ratio”.

Once you know the ratio, you'll be able to calculate your maximum monthly payment you can afford for your home's mortgage, insurance, and property taxes.

Online mortgage calculators can help you determine what priced home you can afford based on that information and current interest rates. If rates go down your buying power increases, but if rates go up your buying power will go down.

$$\begin{array}{c} \text{TOTAL DEBT} \\ \div \\ \text{TOTAL INCOME} \\ = \\ \text{DEBT-TO-INCOME} \\ \text{RATIO} \end{array}$$

RENT VS. BUY

If you are renting and think you can't afford a home... THINK AGAIN! Buying costs significantly less than renting! The percentage of income needed to rent is nearly double than the percentage needed to buy! And rents are, in fact, rising while buying a home is becoming more affordable.

READY TO SEARCH FOR HOMES

ONLINE AND AGENTS TOP THE LIST

The majority of buyers rely on both online resources and guidance from a real estate agent during their home search. This suggests that most buyers combine the self-directed research using websites and apps with the market expertise and human touch offered by a real estate professional. In fact, buyers who utilize online resources during their search are more likely to also use an agent.

"Buyers enhance home search by utilizing a real estate professional in conjunction with self-directed research."

6 REASONS TO HIRE AN AGENT

PAPERWORK

All of the contracts, disclosures, and other required paperwork can seem overwhelming. With regulations constantly changing in the real estate industry, it is good to have a Realtor there to help explain everything to you.

PRICING

Real estate professionals understand home values and everything that affects them. A Realtor will share this insight with you to help you make a smart and solid offer, whether it be well over, well below, or close to the property's actual list price.

NEGOTIATIONS

Realtors represent their buyers during the entire transaction process. Being one of the biggest purchases a person will ever make, the buyer tends to be more emotionally involved. It is helpful to have a Realtor act as a "buffer" in negotiations.

EXPERIENCE

Realtors are licensed professionals who are educated and trained in the real estate field. Being experienced with the entire sales process, they can help guide you through your home buying journey.

KNOWLEDGE

Anyone can get on the internet or flip on the news to get the latest real estate headlines, but a Realtor will effectively explain the current market conditions and decipher exactly what they mean to you.

AWARENESS

Many buyers begin their home search knowing exactly what they want to find, while many others have a vague idea. Being too specific or too broad can make for a very long search process. A Realtor can help you prioritize and make you aware of options you might not have considered, as well as point out features and flaws in a home that you may have overlooked.

THE BUYER'S JOURNEY

DECISIONS/PRE-APPROVAL

MEET WITH AGENT

Our journey begins with meetings to establish rapport, wants/needs, and counseling about the buying process. Our collective goal at HUFF Realty is to lead, teach and serve you through the buyer's journey.

MORTGAGE PRE-APPROVAL

When you get a mortgage pre-approval you have more negotiation power during the buying process and you learn the price range to focus your home search upon.

VISIT HOMES

Most buyers, 90% of them according to national statistics, use the internet as a resource to look for homes. We have several tools, including mobile options, to help you look for homes.

IDENTIFY "THE ONE"

At some point, through a process of elimination, you will find a home which closely matches the wants and needs you have come to identify in your home search. We are here to help guide you through the sometimes complex process of real estate.

10

is the average amount of time buyers search for the home they purchased in 2016.

OFFERS/NEGOTIATIONS

WRITE OFFER

Writing an offer is your official response to the seller of the home that you are interested in becoming the next owner.

NEGOTIATIONS

Not all buyers and sellers are thinking exactly the same when it comes to transferring legal ownership of a home. In the end, negotiations are a NORMAL part of the buyer's journey.

COUNTER OFFER

As the buyer, you make the first step with your initial offer to purchase at the price you determine and other conditions you may want. It is FAIR and REASONABLE for the seller to make a counter offer back to you.

ACCEPTED OFFER

At some point in the offer/negotiation/counter offer process the buyer and seller agree with each other.

55%
OF BUYERS

said finding the right home was the most difficult step in the home buying process.

FINANCING/INSPECTIONS

INSPECTIONS

There may be issues found in the inspection that are hidden from normal observation. These issues may be minor or they may be major enough for you to cancel your outstanding offer to purchase and begin looking for another home.

REPAIR REQUESTS (if any)

It is FAIR and REASONABLE for you, the buyer, to ask that repairs be made after the home is inspected. Most sellers will do the repairs.

TITLE WORK

Banks, mortgage companies, and cash buyers want to know that the legal property they think they are purchasing is correctly identified and clear of all legal liens.

APPRAISAL

Banks, mortgage companies, and cash buyers often require an independent review of the value of the home or property being purchased. This is a NORMAL part of the buyer's journey.

CLOSING/POSSESSION

SCHEDULE CLOSING

Once the financing and inspection phase is complete, a closing date is set for the parties involved to sign the official legal paperwork and transfer of money between parties.

FINAL WALK-THRU

As a buyer, you want to have a final walk-thru before you sign the papers.

CLOSING

This is where you meet to sign the legal papers to transfer ownership and write checks for any monies due at closing. This is where you get to move forward towards the life you want for yourself and your family members.

TAKE POSSESSION

This is where you take the keys you got at closing and walk into your new home or property as the new legal owner. CONGRATULATIONS...this is the American dream.
